BALTIMORE—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1827.

Second class--Literature Lottery

We this day present the scheme of the second class of the Grand Literature Lottery of the State of Maryland. It will be found on the opposite page—as intimated in last week's Register, we had intended the new scheme to have been a lower priced ticket, but on reflection we determined upon the same rate as in the previous class because, by so doing, we were enabled to reduce the number of tickets in this scheme to 10,000—being 20,000 TICKETS LESS THAN IN THE FORMER LOTTERY!—this circumstance gives to the Adventurer a greatly increased chance of success for the Capital prizes—much greater than the difference between the low priced ticket which we had intended, and the price since fixed upon—On examination, the scheme will be found comparatively, very brilliant, and we have to urge our distant friends to send on their orders without delay as from the spirited demand already in the City of Baltimore and from its vicinity, we are certain that the whole of the tickets will be sold at an early period. A sufficient quantity has already been disposed of to authorize the fixing of the time of drawing, which will take place, (under the superintendence of the Commissioners appointed by the Governor and Council) on and will be completed on that day. In thus being enabled to announce so early the drawing, we have the pleasure to acknowledge the continued patronage of the public towards our lotteries, and in return, we assure them of the same punctuality, which, (we may be permitted to say) has always characterized the schemes in which our offices have been engaged.

Wednesday the 19th December,

ORDERS for Tickets or Shares in the second class LITERATURE LOTTERY, to be addressed as heretofore to

J. I. COHEN JR. & BROTHERS,
Baltimore.

We continue on the fourth page of this day's Register, the Official list of the whole drawing of the First Class Literature Lottery, so that in case of any failure in the receipt of the Register last week, it may be supplied by the re-publication to day.

For the Promotion of Science &amp; Literature.

On the opposite page is the scheme of the next class of the GRAND LITERATURE LOTTERY of the State of Maryland.—Only 10 000 tickets in the scheme, which contains the comparatively brilliant capitals of the whole payable in CASH, which as usual, can be had at COHEN'S OFFICE, 114, Market-st Baltimore, the moment they are drawn

10.000 dolls.—5.000 dolls.—
3.000 dolls. &c. &c.

THE DRAWING will take place in the City of Baltimore on Wednesday the 19th December.

ORDERS from any part of the United States, either by mail (post paid) or private conveyance, enclosing the Cash or Prize Tickets in any of the Lotteries, will meet the same prompt and punctual attention as if on personal application.

Be particular in directing to

J. I. COHEN, JR. & BROTHERS,

Prizes in the last Lottery.

The distribution of the Prizes in the First Class of the Grand Literature Lottery on the 17th inst. was of an extensive character: The Capital of 20 000 dolls. is held partly in Baltimore and part in the State of Virginia—the 10.000 doll. Capital is held in a whole ticket in Baltimore.—Of the ten prizes of 2000 dolls eight are held in whole tickets, and 2 divided in shares—of the former, one is held in Richmond, one in Lynchburg, Va one in South Carolina, one at Annapolis one in Culpepper, Va, one in Boston, one in Philadelphia, and one in Baltimore—the other two, were divided, and sold in shares, and are held in Philadelphia; Baltimore; Georgetown, D. C.; Frederick county; York, Pa; Easton, Md. The 1000 and 500 dolls., fell part in whole tickets, and part in shares, and are held in Baltimore, Philad., Lancaster, Greensburg, Wilmington, Cincinnati, Hillsborough, N. C., Raleigh, Alleghany, Washington Hagerstown, St. Clairsville, Pittsburg, Pa. &c &c. The minor prizes of 200's—100's & 50's, we have not room to mention the various distant places to which a large proportion of them were forwarded. The CASH for all which have yet been presented has been instantly paid at COHEN'S OFFICE, as usual; and we respectfully request that the whole may be presented either in person or by mail as early as may suit the convenience of the fortunate Holders, to whom, en passant, we beg leave to suggest a re-investment of a portion of their nett proceeds in the second class of the LITERATURE LOTTERY, the drawing of which will take place on the 19th December next.

LATE FROM RIO JANERIO.—The brig Caledonia, Robinson, arrived here last evening in fifty days from Rio, and brings advices to the 1st ult. We learn that the Buenos Ayrean cruisers are making great havoc of the Brazilian commerce, on the coast, and that almost every day accounts were received of some valuable vessel having been taken or destroyed.

A duel took place on the 20th of August at Rio, between Midshipman BISPHAM, and Surgeon BRADNER, of the United States sloop of War Peacock—the latter was so badly wounded that he died on the following day—two shots were also exchanged by the Seconds, neither of whom were wounded.

Miscellaneous Items

Tooth Ache.—A remedy for this most painful affection, which has succeeded in 95 out of 100 cases, is alum reduced to impalpable powder 2 drachms, nitrous spirit of ether 7 drachms, mixed and applied to the tooth.

At a recent meeting of the London Medical Society, Dr. Blake stated that the extraction of the tooth was no longer necessary, as he was enabled to cure the most desperate case of tooth-ache unless the disease was connected with rheumatism, by the application of this remedy

Modesty.—A gentleman on his way from Boston to Vermont stopped at a tavern where he met an inquisitive country fellow, who said to him, 'where have you come from, if I may be so bold?'—Not bold at all, I come from Boston.' 'Where are you going, if I may be so bold?' 'Not bold at all I am going to Vermont.' 'Who are you going to see there, if I may be so bold?' 'I am going to see the widow M.' 'Are you a married man, if I may be so bold?' 'I am a widower.'—Are you going to marry the widow M. if I may be so bold?' 'That's too d—d bold!'

Remarkable Coincidence.—Died, in Twinsburg, Portage county, Ohio, on the 21st of September, MOSES and AARON WILCOX, aged about 50 years. They, as we are informed, were twin brothers, born in Connecticut; they married on the same day; their wives being sisters: they hoped to have experienced religion on the same day, and attached themselves to the same church; and on the same day they engaged in mercantile business together at Middletown, and failed together: from thence they removed and settled themselves, together, in this State, at a place which from them derived the name of Twinsburgh; they were taken sick on the same day, and were buried in the same grave, and have left to their bereaved children the same rich inheritance of an unsullied moral and christian character. The singular identity which pervaded the character of these men, and the events of their lives, manifested itself no less in their persons. During their youth and middle age, so nearly did they resemble each other as to challenge the most discriminating eye to distinguish them. Employed in the early part of their lives, in the neighbourhood of each other, as school teachers, they were wont occasionally to change schools, and always without detection on the part of the scholars, of the change. What reader of this, as he passes through Twinsburgh will not think of the twins.—Cleveland Herald.

Another Hero of the Revolution gone!—Col. JOHN EAGER HOWARD, a distinguished officer of the revolution, and a commander in the Maryland forces during that arduous struggle, departed this life at his residence in this city, on the evening of Friday, the 12th inst. His remains were interred on Monday last, with every mark of honor and respect which a grateful people could bestow. The funeral was attended by the President of the United States, the officers of the Army and Navy, the Judges and Officers of the several Courts, and gentlemen of the Bar, the members of the Order of Cincinnati (of which the deceased was President.) Trustees and Officers of the Maryland University, Mayor and members of the City Council of Baltimore, and officers of the corporation, Foreign Consuls, Strangers and Citizens, and the volunteer corps composing the several brigades attached to the Third Division, commanded by Maj. Gen. McDonald.—Minute guns were fired from the moment the procession started, until it reached the burial ground—the vessels in the harbour displayed their flags at half mast, and a general suspension of business took place. at the recommendation of the Mayor, during the solemn ceremonies of the day.

Col H. was born in Baltimore county in 1752, and performed a distinguished part in the war of the revolution. He was a captain in the flying Camp of Maryland, 1776. He was appointed to a majority in one of the seven regiments afterwards raised in that state, and at last succeeded to the command of one of them. He was actively engaged under Gen. Greene, in the south, who pronounced a high encomium on him, and attributed to him the merit of turning the battle of the Cowpens. He was also in the battles of Eutaw, Guilford, Whiteplains, Germantown, Monmouth, Camden, Hobbick's Hill, &c &c.

At the battle of the Cowpens he had at one time in his hands the swords of seven officers who had surrendered to him. He did not leave the army until the close of the war. It is believed that at the time of his death he had no living superior revolutionary officer except Gen. La Fayette; Gen. Sumpter having been only a militia officer. Col. Howard was formerly Governor of Maryland and was at the time of his death President of the Cincinnati Society of Maryland.
